

I have been very happy with the Indiana Telephone Privacy law. Infact, I don't think that it went far enough. I do not want the Federal goverenment to rewrite, water down, or weaken the Indiana law. I am quite sure that the FCC has plenty to do without reinventing the wheel and spending millions of dollars of "my" money. If you are intent on having a Federal Telephone Privacy law, may I suggest you use the Indiana version.